

START
IN FEBRUARY

LEADERSHIP AND COOPERATION

MODULAR EXECUTIVE MBA IN BUSINESS & IT

Solistic leaders were once at the forefront of the business community. These days, leadership is increasingly about involving people in a collaborative partnership. Within organizations, we see growing mutual interdependence. Professionals and executives are expected to add value. But how do you become a player that defines and determines the course of the game? Future leaders have to be able to function effectively on different playing fields: the team, the business unit, the organization as a whole, and external business relations.

Who you are, what leadership capacities you possess, and how you can utilize this is not always apparent to everyone. Self-reflection is a mindset that becomes essential when you are to develop in your role as a leader and grow within the organization.

This module prepares you for the leadership of tomorrow. You learn to reflect on yourself and experiment with different leadership styles based on your own experiences in practice. You will become more aware of yourself and your behavior, for instance on how you handle situations involving collaborative partnerships. In organizations, we are both the ball and one of the players.

FOR AMBITIOUS PROFESSIONALS

- With at least 5 years of (general) management experience or in an influential/strategic position
- With at least a Bachelor's degree
- With a manifest ambition to attain a management position or to become an entrepreneur
- With affinity with the IT sector
- With sufficient command of the English language

PROGRAM OUTLINE

The module lasts six months, includes four blocks of in total ten days and one day of intervention, and requires an average of ten to twelve hours of study per week. Therefore, it is possible to combine this module with a busy work schedule and personal life. To successfully complete the module, you are required to write a paper. Successful completion of the module entitles you to a certificate of our accredited MBA. For all specific dates and more information visit our website via nyenrode.nl/mbabit

EXPERIENCE NYENRODE

Experience Nyenrode on your own or with other interested visitors, course participants, alumni and faculty. Learn from their stories and benefit from their insights on the curriculum, study load and added value in professional practice. For more information, visit nyenrode.nl/experiencemodular

BUSINESS & IT LEADERSHIP AND COOPERATION

BLOCK 1: The psychology of cooperation, influence and decision-making (3 days)

BLOCK 2: Working in multi-party situations (4 days)

BLOCK 3: Personal mastery (2 days)

BLOCK 4: Personal reflection (1 day)

Core teacher: Prof. dr. André Wierdsma, specialized in change management, interdepartmental cooperation and leadership.

FOR MORE INFORMATION PLEASE CONTACT ONE OF OUR PROGRAM ADVISORS:

✉ MMBA@NYENRODE.NL ☎ +31 (0)346 291 001 🌐 NYENRODE.NL/MMBA